You can submit your request for technical support 7x24 via web

You will receive a confirmation email that your request has been received.

If your support issue is of an urgent matter, please advise the agent and all efforts will be made to prioritize your ticket. Emergency response charges may apply if the support issue turns out to be standard support issue.

Ticket Numbers

Remember your ticket number in case you need to call back with new / updated information on a support issue. Tickets are worked in first-come-first-serve basis so it is important to keep your ticket number to keep your place in line. All tickets remain open until the support engineer has satisfactorily resolved your problem. Tickets are escalated internally by the support engineer to senior engineers or developers if they are unable to resolve the problem.

Once the problem is solved from our end, we will contact you to verify closure of trouble tickets you have opened. We care very much about our customers, and that's why we are working hard to continually make the process better to ensure total customer satisfaction.
